

Pre. Ph.D. Course Work (2017 Course) : SUMMER - 2018 (Law)

SUBJECT : PAPER – I : RESEARCH METHODOLOGY AND ICT FOR RESEARCH
(LAW) [2017 - Course]

Day : Monday
Date : 25/06/2018

S-2018-4739

Time : 10.00 AM TO 01.00 PM
Max. Marks : 100

N. B. :

- 1) Attempt ANY FIVE questions from each section.
- 2) Figures to the right indicate FULL marks.
- 3) Answers to both the sections should be written in SEPARATE answer books.

SECTION – I

- Q. 1 Define Legal Research. Examine the types of research. (10)
- Q. 2 Analyze the legal research process required to be followed by research scholars in preparation of legal search. (10)
- Q. 3 Write a critical note on plagiarism and copyright infringement. (10)
- Q. 4 Report writing is an art which is learnt by practice and experience, rather than by mere doctrination. Comment. (10)
- Q. 5 Examine the significance of research design in legal research. (10)
- Q. 6 After identifying a research problem the next step is formulation of research problem. Elaborate (10)

SECTION – II

- Q. 7 Information Technology has developed a lot of e-mail facility which helps the researcher in communication. Comment. (10)
- Q. 8 Evaluate the merit and demerits of computer organized legal research. (10)
- Q. 9 Legal professionals use the internet primarily to send e-mail, to participate in bulletin board discussions to login to remote location. Elucidate. (10)
- Q.10 Write notes on the following: (10)
a) Excel
b) MS Office
- Q.11 'Manu Patra is an important online research data base'. Comment. (10)
- Q.12 Write detail essay on Lexis Nexis an online research data base. (10)