Q.4

Read the passage & answer the questions given below

(10)

For a person who loves to stay awake & work in the night, it takes time to realize the beauty & bliss of a morning. It happened to me when my health started deteriorating due to my unhealthy sleeping habits & I was forced to sleep early. It was difficult to achieve the feat initially. I would toss and turn in the bed, my hands itching to grab a book or to open my laptop. But one fine day, my body & my mind responded & I slept peacefully the whole night. What's more important, I woke up fresh as a daisy in the morning! With a cup of freshly brewed coffee in one hand & a book in the other, I sat in my balcony. Delicate rays of the early morning sun fell on the words and I felt as if I am discovering meanings of those words anew. It was a completely new feeling, something which I now yearn for every day. I have finally transformed from a night-owl to a lark!

- i) What is the passage about? Write in your own words.
- ii) Why was the writer forced to sleep early? What difficulties did she face initially?
- iii) Write words from the passage which mean the following
  - i) Becoming increasingly worse/weak
  - ii) in a completely different, new way
